

STUDENT SOLICITATION AND USE OF FUNDS

University student organizations or independent student organizations which receive University monies must account for their expenditures in the manner of the regular University departments.

These organizations are permitted to use University facilities for fund-raising purposes which among other things may be directed toward philanthropic purposes, defined here as determined by the Internal Revenue Service to be non-profit and tax-exempt, and that funds raised in this manner shall not be made directly available to an individual or individuals.

December 19, 1974