

GRANTING OF CREDIT FOR ON-THE-JOB TEACHING OR CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

Academic credit for practicum experience, including student teaching and clinical experiences for students in nursing and other health care fields, shall be granted only when the student receives adequate supervision from personnel of the school or facility in which the student is placed and from personnel assigned from the University faculty.

In the event an institution wishes to establish an internship through which students receive full or partial compensation for services, the awarding of credit shall be granted only when the student is provided an amount of supervision from University faculty comparable to that ordinarily provided for student teaching or similar unpaid clinical experiences. In any event, academic credit for these experiences shall be based on pre-determined and established evaluation procedures.

April 29, 2016